Things to review before your call

Everything you need to know (and more!) before you get on a call with us!

HMP Records, founded by Matt Waters and Matthew Busch went from a typical small record label, to one of the most successful out there in helping independent musicians find success in the NFT space online

Not only have they sold the 15th most expensive t-shirt of all time as an NFT, they've been able to see success in helping Intro to Music Theory, one of their artists make over $10,000 in just under 6 weeks solely by designing and selling NFTs.

These creative methods using the latest strategies available to independent artists has allowed musicians from all over the world to do what they want most- to make a living making music.

NFTs for Musicians is the blueprint on how to start, mint, and build your own online NFT game, and turn it into a profitable venture. You can skip the trial and error of figuring NFTs out on your own. You can duplicate HMP Records success and utilize NFTs to supplement your income as a musician, and make a living making music.

Hainan Music Productions has been featured in the South China Morning Post, Sansha TV, China Daily, and on art drops with Charged Particles, and Tokensmart. They are the only english-language record label in Hainan Province, and have been hired to organize and perform for massive events such as the Lingshui Youth Festival and various international conferences, and at venues as glamorous as the Ritz Carlton in Haikou and Wanning.
